Group Wants Two Meatless Days a Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The newest national consumer group wants Americans not to eat or buy meat on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and to prepare for a national day of protest against food prices next month.

The battle cry for continued meat boycotts was sounded Wednesday as 150 women, all boycott leaders, met on Capitol Hill as the National Consumers Congress.

"I really think the consumer movement started here today,' said congress chairman Betty Furness, New York City's commissioner of consumer affairs.

The group immediately called for two meatless days each week and designated May 5 as a national day of protest against high food prices with demonstrations scheduled across the country.

The women also called for the resignation of Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz and urged the administration to affect a "major rollback of food prices." In addition, they passed a resolution demanding that the President reduce exports of scarce foods and take action to spur domestic food production and food imports.

In Chicago, the president of the American Meat Institute said that a rollback on food prices would produce one of the worst meat shortages in the nation's history.

Herrell DeGraff said a rollback to the Jan. 10 level would cost the livestock and meat industries $1.25 billion, and would produce only short-term benefits for consumers.

But, he said, the industry's ability to provide meat would most serious meat shortage and wine on Sundays will be legal ever, with a return to meat ra-

I was nearly to the point of asking, "God, have you forgotten me?", when I stopped by the Hugo Guerney home. There I had the most enchanting afternoon of my life. "I can sit down and read a chapter, close the book and forget the whole thing," said the 67-year-old Sadler, "but I'm getting used to reading more."

There wasn't much time for reading during Sadler's nearly 50-year sports career that began when he started boxing for Seattle promoter Nate Druxman in 1924 while still in high Starting as a bantamweight and growing up to a welterweight, Sadler had 86 fights before turning to golf full time. He won 33 bouts, eight by knockout, lost 22 and had 31 draws.

Sadler, who fought under the name Frankie Repoz—the name of his step-father whose family includes major league baseballer Roger Repoz—had been a caddy before he took up boxing. He recalls carrying the bags for Jim Barnes and Jock Hutchinson, the reigning U.S. and British Open champions of 1921 when they were on an exhibition swing through the Northwest.

"Boxing is a rough sport," said Sadler. "You get hurt and it's all over. I wanted to get out before I got hurt."

So he grabbed the chance to become an assistant golf pro at Bellingham where he moved up to the head job in 1936.

While building the club up from about 100 members to its present limited membership of 325, Sadler found time to play in the Canadian Open, Tam O'Shanter and a flock of Northwest tournaments.

He won the Northwest Professional Golfers' Association Seniors title in 1957 and set a record of 7-under-par 64 on the tricky, tree-studded Bellingham course. The mark has been equalled but never surpassed.

"I still play every day," said Sadler, whose worlds to conquer now are academic.

No. 1-2 Scorers Named to NBA's 'Hardship' List

NEW YORK (AP) — There was almost as much interest in the names that were missing as there was in those that showed up on the National Basketball Association's list of hardship cases eligible for next Monday's draft.

Absent from the list were junior Bill Walton of national champion UCLA and sophomore David Thompson of second ranked North Carolina State, both All-America selections. They had been expected to request the hardship status so they could be eligible for this year's draft, but did not.

Granted the status were 11 collegians including William "Bird" Averitt of Pepperdine, the national scoring leader.

Also named on the NBA list released Tuesday were Raymond Lewis of Los Angeles State, the No. 2 scorer in the country, and Dwight Jones of Houston, a member of the United States Olympic team.

Others on the list were Larry Harris of Genessee Community College in Flint, Mich.; Larry Kenon of Memphis State; Arnold Zigmond Mast of Oklahoma City Southwestern Junior College; Larry McNeil of Marquette; Ed Searcy of St. John's, N.Y.; John Lee Williamson of New Mexico State; Mallory Mitchell of Southern California College at Costa Mesa and David Brent, formerly of Jackson-
